Ramen and Yatai (food stall)

Tenjin is the best place to eat Tonkotsu (pork bone) Ramen. There are plenty of noodle shops offering thin noodles served in a cloudy white soup. Every restaurant has developed original recipe of noodles and soup, and offers noodle top-up service called "kaedama." Tenjin is a town with a unique "noodle culture". Food stalls set up after dark are the night feature of Tenjin. In addition to Ramen and Yakitori, each stall serves original menus. It is a perfect place to enjoy casual drinking and chatting.
*Food stalls may be closed on bad weather days and during holidays.
